New Police Constable

We are looking for a small number of new police constables to join the City of London Police towards the end of 2014. If you want to work where you can be valued for your contribution and actively work to make the community safer for those who live and work here, then a career as a City of London Police Constable could be for you.

You will operate on the front line offering a reassuring presence, supporting victims and witnesses and upholding the law. To be successful in this role you should have a natural desire to help others along with resilience and integrity. This role brings a unique set of challenges but is also incredibly rewarding and fulfilling.

Applications will be available from Monday 17th February 2014.
